MADRID, March 25. - The newspapers throughout Spain continue to print cabled extracts from the speeches made by United States Senators on the Cuban belligerency resolutions. This serves to keep alive the animosity of the students and other anti-Americans, who lose no opportunity to display their feelings. Several patriotic ebullitions have taken place in the past few days, and there was another this afternoon at Barcelona. After the municipal band had played a patriotic march a few students became extra-enthusiastic, burred a small American flag and marched in the direction of the United States consulate. The "patriots." however, were dispersed by the police before reaching the consulate. The United however, expressed indignation at the attiing and provoking."

A majority of the newspapers print pessimistic comment on the Cuban discussion at Washington and point to the fact that three Senguished themselves by showing ill will for not a reassuring symptom and urge the govrnment to prepare for every eventuality. They declare that while the vote on belligerent rights has not been finally carried lict continues. The press also refers to the fact that the spanish squadron remains Spanish waters, ready to depart at any ment. The official press, however, takes a more optimistic view of the situation.

HAVANA, March 25 .- It is learned that an expedition, supposed to be that from the steamer Bermuda, has landed between Guantonamo and the city of Santiago de Cuba, in the province of the latter name. Twelve sailors on board gunboat Conde Venadito have died of yellow fever. It is also learned that several Americans, members of an expedition which landed at Manzanillo, four months ago, have died of yellow fever. A report was circulated here that Maximo Gomez is a very sick man and is suffering with a high fever. It is for this reason, it is said, that he has avoided all engagements with the Spanish troops of late and has remained quiet, leaving the active conduct of the campaign to Antonio Maceo and his other lieutenants. Cubans Inspired with Hope.

NEW YORK, March 26 .- A special to the World from Havana, Cuba, says: "The adoption by the Senate and House at Washington of resoltions looking to recognition of the rebels as belligerents has inspired such hope in the Cubans that thousands have joined the insurgents in the field in the last ten days. A score or so of men often leave Havana quietly on some excuse and join the rebels, who are still only fifteen miles distant. The sugar planters dare not grind, in spite of General Weyler's orders. All preparations to do so have again ceased."

Interest for the time being is attracted from Walling and Jackson to their attorneys. The question is often asked why Jackson and Walling do not shave. There are many the part of the two prisoners. As was stated early in the case, Jackson was shaved on that time he wore a beard such as he has cultivated since he has been in jail. Walling always had a smooth face, save a mustache, pression is that the two prisoners have grown beards in the hope that it will aid them in creating doubts in the minds of withesses who may be called upon to identify them during the trial. They can get shaved if they want to, for Jailer Bitzer is an expert with the razor, and shaves prisoners in the

There is no disputing the fact that the beards on the two prisoners make a decided change in their appearance, and they may puzzle some of the witnesses. As the day for the trial nears the interest as to the line of defense grows. Judge Buchwalter, in speaking of the matter to-day, expressed himself for the first time since he turned the prisoners over to the Kentucky authorities. He said that if the head of authorities. He said that if the head of Pearl Bryan is in existence it would be wise for the prisoners to produce it, providing that they did not kill the girl by crushing her head. able Dictionary Distribution. The result of the American Newspaper Syndicate's distribution of the American Enclopaedic Dictiorary has been something onderful. Thousands of letters asking for descriptive matter and sample pages have been received, and an endless throng of visitors have called to inspect this magnificent work. All unite in praising the enterprise and wisdom of the press which places the greatest reference book of modern times in the hands of the people. From the first arnouncement the response was immediate, and the allotment of the 300 introductory sets has been accomplished so rapidly that today, possibly to-morrow, will see the end of the distribution.

The American Newspaper Syndicate de-sires to warn all who desire to secure this incomparable reference work to make instant application. Remember that a merely nominal figure has beer placed on these four massive volumes of nearly 5,000 pages, and remember also that easy terms of payment have been provided. No person who is desirous of possessing the work will be prevented from so doing on account of the money involved. One dollar in cash and $1.25 per mouth for one year is the liberal arrangement, the full set of books being delivered Immediately on making the first payment.

Inspection of the work at syndicate headquarters is also invited, while out-of-town. readers to whom the volumes are delivered are allowed to return them within ten days f not precisely as represented. Those desiring to participate in the distri-bution will therefore be obliged to act promptly, which will be much to their advantage, since the regular subscription price of $42 per set will prevail after the 300 introductors sell are all placed.

The animal was the big elephant Gypsy, attached to a traveling circus, and Frank Scott, whom she killed this afternoon, had had charge of her for a number of years. About 1 o'clock he went into the stall where the big beast was confined and cast her loose. He then drove her into the alley and proceeded to give her the daily exercise. Scott mounted Gypsy's head and rode her around for a few minutes, finally stopping her nearly in front of the barn. Reaching over in front Scott jammed down, and Scott landed on the ground inside, "Help!" he cried. "She will kill me!"

Hearing the noise from inside the shed, Gypsy reached in with her trunk after her keeper, who made all the effort his injured condition would allow; to get out of her reach. He continued to cry for aid, and still Mrs. Fred Irwin, who lives on Jackson boulevard, ran out into the alley and tried

The Italian was blown almost to pieces, and Seymour Eddy, a son of D. R. Eddy, of Lewiston, had both eyes blown out, one leg broken in three places and was otherwise injured.

JOURNALISTIC SIDE SHOWS.

Opposition in Rochester to a "Woman's Edition." ROCHESTER, March 25 .- The practice of publishing women's editions of newspapers, ostensibly for the promotion of some charity, but in reality to boom the newspapers themselves, has run against a novel snag in this city, provoking a hot controversy and no little ill feeling. Some time ago the Post-Express announced, with the usual flourish of trumpets, that, on a future date, the entire management of the issue of a single number was to be placed in the hands of the women, who were to provide the reading matter, the advertisements, collect the news and edit it, sell the papers and devote the net receipts for the benefit of the Young Women's Christian Association. Everything went along smoothly until the Rev. A. S. Crapsey, the popular and able rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, who had, without careful inquiry, indorsed the enterprise, learned that young girls were to be employed to sell the papers on the streets, in the street cars and hotels, and elsewhere. It struck him as a most improper hing to do, and he went to Mrs. Charles E. Fitch, the manager of the enterprise, and protested against the exposure of girlhood to the publicity and danger involved in the sale of the papers in the manner proposed.

When he found that his protest was regarded as an impertinence, he announced his determination to appeal to the moral sense of the community "against the ex-posure of womanhood, and calling for the safeguarding of our girls."
In accordance with this resolution, he preached a powerful sermon, last evening, against the employment of girls. It is not certain that he will succeed in preventing this method of selling the edition, but a good many people think that he has taken the proper stand and are anxious to see him suc-ceed. As he is a man of great tenacity of urpose, he is certain to fight the matter to | G. M. Height, Red Bank. 27

MIGRATION OF DUNKARDS.

1,500 from Indiana and Other States on Their Way to North Dakota.

CHICAGO, March 25 .- Twenty colonies of Dunkards from six different States passed through Chicago on their way to new homes in North Dakoto last night. The colonists, numbering 1,500, arrived during the evening and the cars in which they rode were at once switched to the yards of the Wisconsin Central railroad. From St. Paul the route is over the Northwestern to North Dakota. Along the line of this road the colonists will establish new homes. Then Dunkards are from colonies in half a hundred towns in Virginia, West Virginia, Penrsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. The interstate tournament began yesterday with a programme of four events, but the entries in two of them were so large that they were not decided until today, and the other two had to be put over until later in the week. The Elkwood introductory was concluded this forenoon about 11 o'clock. Thirteen of the sixty-seven contestants in this event grassed every bird and the money was divided among them. The gentlemen who tied are: J. A. R. Elliott, Capt. A. W. Money, B. W. Claridge, B. A. Bartlett, T. W. Morfey, Fred Gilbert, J. G. Mossner, A. R. Pope, S. Cunningham, J. Timmons, Jones F. Welley and Wellington. Later in the afternoon the Nitro Powder handicap was decided with six men dividing first money, twenty-three persons dividing second, thirteen dividing third and twelve dividing fourth money. The six winners of first money killed fifteen straight, the twenty-three seconds fourteen each, and, by a coincidence, the thirteen dividing third money killing thirteen each, and twelve split fourth money after killing twelve each.

When the shooters for the Grand American handicap had been called to the "old ground," referee Jucob Peniz informed them that each one of them should shoot two birds the terms of the hand cap provided that a shooter, after having missel three birds, lege of re-entering in case there was a possible enance of his or her gaining a prize. The first man to face the traps was W. S bird with the second barrel. In the absence of Mr. E. S. Rice, of Calcago, Fred Hoey the well-known trap shooter, stepped to the thirty-one-yard mark, but he falled to score Throughout the atternoon the birds proved to be very lively, and at the end of the sixth round no less than twenty of the contestants had to retire, owing to their naving missed Mrs. M. F. Lindsley ("Wanda"), of Cincinnati, was very successful in her efforts, as she brought down her hist three birds, but the last one fell dead out of bounds. She missed the fourth, hit the fifth and lost the sixth, which was a very difficult "quarterer, and the Western woman had to retire. Miss Annie Oakley brought down her first bird rell and missed the fourth and fifth, thus making it necessary for her to retire. Judgng from the numerous entries, the shoot for the big prize may possibly last until Friday afternoon, and at dusk this afternoon there were thirteen men standing with clean scores at the end of the tenth round. Sent Back to the State Court. CHICAGO, March 25 .- Judge Showalter, of the federal court, to-day remanded the case of the people of Illinois against the American Tobacco Company back to the State Court. In giving his decision the court said:

"This is an aplication for an injunction under the anti-trust law of 1892, passed by the Legislature of Illinois. That act provides that in the case of a combination of corpora-tions, as here alleged, the State shall in-hibit the corporations, if foreign one, from doing business in the State, and impose a fine not exceeding $5,000, and in the case of domestic corporations to forfeit their charters. This is a penal law and the federal courts have no jurisdiction in the matter. It is not a civil suit for a judgment, but the imposition of a fine. As such it belongs to the State courts, and is, therefore, remanded."
